Never before published, A Partridge in a Pear Tree wasn't intended as a commercial venture. Artist Charley Harper—perhaps with his wife, Edie, also an artist—created this little book for his family. With its pastel sketches and humorous text, this sweet take on a holiday classic provides an intimate look at Harper's fun-loving personality.

The Twelve Terrors of Christmas

 Drawings by Edward Gorey
 • 32 pp., 4¼ x 5¾ in.
 • Smyth-sewn casebound, with jacket
 • More than a dozen black-and-white illustrations

Two masters will tickle your funny bone in this stocking stuffer. Novelist John Updike's holiday musings are perfectly complemented by the darkly humorous drawings of Edward Gorey. "A man of no plausible address, with no apparent source for his considerable wealth, comes down the chimney after midnight while decent, law-abiding citizens are snug in their beds—is this not, at the least, cause for alarm?" Ho-ho-ouch!

Cats celebrate Christmas. They marvel at Christmas trees, attack gift wrap, give presents (generally deceased rodents), and eat too much. This behavior was shrewdly documented by artist B. Kliban. Dozens of his yuletide Cat cartoons and paintings have been collected here, along with never-before-published Cat carol lyrics including "Hark the Hungry Kittens Sing," "We Wish You a Mousie Christmas," and "Kittens We Have Heard on High."
